PREFACE

The Inventory of Federal Archives in the States is one of the products of the work of the Survey of Federal Archives, which operated as a nationwide project of the Works Progress Administration from January 1, 1936 to June 30, 1937, and has been continued since that date as a unit of the Historical Records Survey, also operating as a nation-wide project of the Works Progress Administration, and a group of state or local projects of that Administration and of the Work Projects Administration.

The plan for the organization of the Inventory is as follows: Series I consists of reports on the administration of the Survey, acknowledgments, and general discussions of the location, condition, and content of Federal archives in the states. Succeeding series contain the detailed information secured by workers of the Survey, in inventory form, a separate series number being assigned to each of the executive departments (except the Department of State) and other major units of the Federal Government. Within each series No. 1 is a general introduction to the field organization and records of the governmental agency concerned; the succeeding numbers contain the inventory proper, separate numbers being assigned to each state in alphabetical order. Thus, in each series, the inventory for Alabama is No. 2, that for Arizona No. 3, that for Arkansas No. 4, etc.

For each local office information regarding each series, or unit of related records, is presented in the following order: title, inclusive dates ("to date" indicating an open file at the time the information was secured), general description of informational content, description of the system of filing or indexing (if any), a statement of frequency and purpose of use, form of the record itself (bound volumes, sheets in folders, etc.), linear footage, description of the containers, physical condition of the records (not stated if satisfactory), location by room number or other identifying information, and finally, the number of the Form 58SA on which this information was originally recorded by a Survey worker and from which it was abstracted for the Inventory. This form is on file in The National Archives. When it contains substantial information on addenda sheets which has not been included in the mimeographed abstract, indication of this is given by use of the reference "See addenda."

In Georgia the work of the Survey was under the direction of Professor Merritt B. Pound from its inception until June 30, 1937. Since that time the Historical Records Survey in Georgia, now sponsored by the State Planning Board, has continued work on the Inventory of Federal Archives. This Inventory of the records of the Federal Courts in Georgia was prepared in the Atlanta office of the Survey and was edited before final typing by Dr. Richard R. Stenberg of the Washington office. It is reproduced in mimeographed form through the facilities of the Historical Records Survey.

THE FEDERAL COURTS

INTRODUCTION

The judicial district of Georgia was created by the Judiciary Act of September 24, 1789, which stipulated that district and circuit courts should hold sessions at Savannah and Augusta. An act of April 24, 1816 provided for sessions of circuit court at Milledgeville and Savannah only. Georgia was divided into Northern and Southern Districts by act of August 11, 1848, with district courts at Marietta and Savannah. The district court for the Northern District was subsequently moved from Marietta to Atlanta. Circuit court sessions at Atlanta were provided for by act of June 4, 1872.

The Northern District was divided into Eastern and Western divisions by act of January 29, 1880, and court was established at Macon for the Western division. The same act transferred three counties from the Northern to the Southern District. The Northeastern division, Southern District, with district court meeting at Augusta, was established by act of February 15, 1889. The Western division, Northern District, with court sessions at Columbus, was established by act of March 3, 1891. The Northwestern division, Northern District, with court at Rome, was established by act of April 12, 1900. The Eastern division, Northern District, at Athens, was created by act of February 28, 1901. The Southwestern division, Southern District, with court at Valdosta, was created by act of June 30, 1902. Court at Albany, in the Southern District, was provided for by act of March 3, 1905.

The Judiciary Act of March 3, 1911, which abolished the circuit courts and transferred their functions to the district courts, made no changes as regards the places of holding court in Georgia.

The Middle District of Georgia was created under an act of May 28, 1926, which also added four new court sites: Gainesville in the Northern District, Americus in the Middle District, and Dublin and Waycross in the Southern District. The district courts now sit at Atlanta, Gainesville, and Rome in the Northern District, at Macon, Athens, Columbus, Americus, Albany, and Valdosta in the Middle District, and at Savannah, Augusta, Dublin, and Waycross in the Southern District.

Georgia is presently included, along with Alabama, Florida, Mississippi, Louisiana, and Texas, in the Fifth Circuit, and the Circuit Court of Appeals hold sessions in Georgia at Atlanta; all court records of the Fifth Circuit, however, are kept at the circuit clerk's headquarters at New Orleans.

The District Court was established by act of March 12, 1848, in Marietta. On December 11, 1861 it became the District Court of the Confederate States of America. No court was held from 1864 until September 10, 1866. On the later date the first term of the district court at Atlanta was held. On April 25, 1882 Congress provided for a separate judge for this district.

The circuit court held its first term in Atlanta on September 9, 1872. On January 1, 1912 the circuit court was consolidated with the district court.
